Why Security Credit Union Selected Sync1 Systems' Loan Origination System

AUSTIN, TX / ACCESSWIRE / May 5, 2023 / Security Credit Union recently selected Sync1 Systems' LOS (loan origination system) solution to improve its efficiency in its lending operations and create a better overall member experience. Security Credit Union was looking for a partner to grow with over the next several years that felt like they understood not only the credit union culture but how they care for their members.

"Sync1 Systems was very responsive through the due diligence process and very accommodating to any requests. Our employees are also very excited about using the product, and we are very comfortable it will be an overall better experience getting a loan at our credit union for all individuals involved," expressed Christopher Estes, President & CEO of Security Credit Union, when asked about their relationship with Sync1 Systems.

As Sync1 Systems' financial technology is incorporated into the loan application process, it allows credit unions to spin up new lending products quickly and easily. Because Sync1 Systems' LOS enables customization for individual loan application processes, it saves credit unions time while providing a seamless and convenient experience for members.

"While Sync1 Systems is somewhat younger than the others on paper, it gives us the distinct advantage of being on the latest technologies making us more nimble for our credit union partners and their members. Our employees include very experienced individuals, not only in the loan origination space but also in the credit union industry. We are very excited to add Security Credit Union to our family and look forward to helping improve their member experience," added Steve Maloney, CEO of Sync1 Systems.
